Jean Ancêtre GOBEIL was born 14 Oct 1627, in St Liguair, Niort, Poitou , France, christened 21 Feb 1666, in Chateau-Richer, Montmorency, QC, Canada, died 3 Dec 1698, in St Jean, Ile d'Orleans, QC, Canada, buried in St Laurent, Ile d'Orleans, QC, Canada. He was the son of Pierre GOBEIL and Catherine CHAIGNEAU. He married Jeanne GUIET 14 Apr 1654, in St Liguair, Niort, Poitou , France. She was the daughter of Pierre GUYET and Gabrielle ROQUIER.

France in the time of 1500-1600 saw many ongoing insurrections and battles. One such battle took place in the city/port of La Rochelle which was a stronghold of the Huegenots in 1628. The city of Niort, a few miles inland of La Rochelle was Cheval damaged as well. Niort in the Province of Poitou, is the birthplace of Jean Gobeil, grandson of Michael Gobeil, about the year 1624.

The wars came with a great financial burden to the country of France and the costs were of course passed on to the public in the form of higher taxes. The wars had devastated a great part of the western French provinces and they never recovered their prosperity. The newly found colony in Quebec in New France had many advantages to offer to depressed people. In the Spring of 1665, Jean Gobeil, his wife Jeanne Guiet, and their four daughters overcame their fears of the hardships of the voyage, the life in New France, and the Indian horror stories and set sail for a new life in Quebec.

Jean Gobeil, his wife Jeanne , and 4 daughters sailed from France in the Spring of 1665 arriving in Quebec Canada in Summer/Fall of 1665.

Thus began the journey of Gobeil's to Canada and eventually to Minnesota, When the Gobeil family arrived in Quebec City, Quebec in the summer or early fall of 1665 they looked for a home and livelihood. Jean found a farm and rented it for 5 years. In Dec 23, 1665 he leased a farm in the locality of Chateau-Richer about 10 miles downriver from Quebec City. The Farm was located where the small river Saulte-a-la-Puce enters the St. Lawrence River, on the Beupre Coast, in the locality of Chateau-Richer, Quebec.

Life was good here and three more children were born to the Gobeil name. There were several different spellings of Gobeil over There years and at times appeared as Gobaille, Gobille, Gobeille, and even Gobiel. All pronounced in French as Gaa-bay. Gobeil is the accepted form in Canada, France, and USA today. Seems that all Gobeil's in US and Canada may be direct descendants of Jean and Jeanne Gobeil as no other records of Gobeil's coming France have been found.

In the fall of 1669 Jean and his son-in-law Robert Villancourt purchased land on the Isle of Orleans in the midst of the St. Lawrence River accross from the Beaupre Coast. The land was along a small river called Pot-au-Beurre, on the North side of the island in the Parish of St. Famille. It was on this farm that Jean and Jeanne gave birth to their last child.

After 10 years on this farm, Jean decided to purchase a new farm on the South side of the Isle of Orleans. The new farm was in the Parish of St. Jean where another small river flows into the St. Lawrence, The River La Fleur. Jean's son Barthelemy I purchased this farm in 1695 and built a home in 1697 that still stands. Barthelemy I Married Anne Dionne in 1697 and they were the parents of 8 children.
