Harry William Parent lived with his parents near Lakeland, LA. on a cotton plantation. When he was about seven, in about 11890 the crops were wiped out by weevils so his father, Henry, moved the family to New Roads.

At the age of ten or eleven he and brother Alphonse would wash bottles and fill them. With fourmular, he and his brothers delivered soda pop to stores around the island. This normally took all day and ocasionally they had to spend the night away from home. Harry and his brothers learned to swim in the Mississippi River. Their mother would tie a rope around their wast and they could swim the length of the rope.

After moving to Garyville, Mr Parent went to high school. Because of tutoring he was too advanced for his class and left high school to enter Baton Rouge Business College which he completed in 1912 at the age of 18.

He was the son of Henry William PARENT and Marie Alphonsene HAYDEL.

Belle Parker lived with her family when in approximate 1906 they moved from Brewton, Escambia, AL to Leakesville, Greene, MS. At the time her father was in logging. In approx 1915 they moved to Moss Point and bought a restaurant. Later in 1919 they moved to Pascagoula where they lived in a house on Telephone Road, next to the Baptist Church. Belle returned to Mobile with her sister where they were employed by George Pressenos in his restaurants. Her sister Lene would marry George. In the meantime her parents had accepted a position in the delta region of Mississippi, to run a boarding house for a lumber camp. She was asked to come as they needed her help. Lene went with her on the train and while riding they took notice of a young man sitting across the aisle. Upon arrival the superintendent of the logging camp was waiting for them and apparently, the young man they had been discussing on the train. As they got into the car he was introduced to them as Mr. Harry Parent. Life in the lumber camp was rather simple and Belle saw a lot of Harry. In fact Harry often helped out in the kitchen, something he learned at his mother's boarding house. Soon Harry asked Belle to marry him, much to the displeasure of her mother. At this Belle returned to Mobile to stay with Lene and her husband George, but additional plans had been made. She took a train to Vicksburg, MS where she met Harry. He had an agreement with a friend, and they were married in the Catholic Church at Vicksburg, MS.

Belle Parent was living Tempary at 5275 11th St. (at the residence of Florence Parent & Ralph Bordelon) Katy, TX, where she died between 2 & 5:30. She died in her sleep and her head was resting in her left hand as if just resting. She had a glass of tea a little before 2 p.m.. Florence Parent and Ralph Bordelon and Paul Parent were at the house when she died.

He was the son of Charles PARENT and Marie Louise PARMENTIER. He married Euphmie Irma RICHARD 1 Jul 1843, in West Baton Rouge, East Baton Rouge Parish, LA, USA. She was the daughter of Joseph RICHARD and Marie BLANCHARD.

Joseph was probably born in Nicolet, Quebec, Canada where his parents were married and where his grandparents were also married.

He was first identified in the records of the Baton Rouge Diocese when he married in 1843. Also identified in this Church record were the names of his parents and the town in Quebec from which he came.

LA. Land records showed in 1847 Joseph owned 174 Acres in West Baton Rouge.

He was again identified in the 1850 Census as living in the area covered by the post office located in Lobell's Store in West Baton Rouge Parish. During this period he attended St. John the Baptist in Bruly where the majority of his children were baptized and one daughter, Emelie, age 17 was buried on 20 Feb 1864.

The 1870 census identified Joseph as residing in the Port Hudson census area. Joseph was still alive in 1873, as recorded in the Baton Rouge Diocese records when he attended the wedding of his daughter Henriette Alexandrine to Lucien Francois Brousard, at Immaculate Conception, Canal. This was the last recorded mention of Joseph Parent.

Joseph's grandson Lee had stated to Larry Parent that he had gone to the funeral of one of his uncles and that Joseph had been buried there. The cemetery was in the area of Grenwell Springs and looked down on a river. I have been unable to locate that cemetery.

Samual, the son of George Parker, was at least partially raised by his uncle, John Parker. Upon the death of his father, Samual lived with John until John took up the land grant in Georgia. At this time 1787, Samual sold the land called "Snow Hill" located in Worchester County MD, which had been left to him by his father. At this time he went to Georgia and bought land next to his uncle John. This land, purchased from Sanders Walker consisted of 500 acres and cost him $100.00 It was located near Rock Creek Landing on the Oconne river. The land was located in Washington, Greene & Hancock depending on current county lines. The following was written but by who is unknown "Like many other Greene County Georgia families, the Parkers participated in land sales at nearby Milledgeville GA in 1817-1819. They joined the migration into what is now Escambia Co, Ala. At that time it was a part of Baldwin and Conecuh Counties and was still occupied by Indians. The Parkers settled in the area that became the Roberts community. It was located just East of what is now Brewton, the county seat of Escambia, which county was established in 1868. They and their neighbors began to wrestle a bare existence from that wilderness. With few tools and no nails they constructed log houses, rail fences, rough barn and animal sheds. They cleared enough of the land to plant the necessary food stuffs for man and his beasts. The Conecuh River was their link with the outside world at Ferry Pass and Pensacola. These pioneers struggled, barehanded, with the wilderness, the terra in and the elements with varying degrees of success for five years. After experiencing these almost unsurmountable inconveniences and with ever increasing hostilities from the Indians, the Parkers returned to their holdings in Georgia where they remained only two years. Once again they ventured back to their lands in South Alabama.

She was the daughter of John PARKER and Sarah GORDY. She married Samuel PARKER about 1792, in , , MD, USA. He was the son of George PARKER and Sarah.

Mary Parker had three sisters and two brothers older than she. They lived with their parents John and Sarah, on their land northeast of the Chesapeake Bay in Sussex county Delaware when John enlisted in the service in the Revolution. At the time of John's enlistment Mary was not quite two years old and she had three younger brothers born in 1778, 1789 and 1782 before the armistice was made final in 1783. A family tradition accepted and recorded by each genealogist of the Parker Family states that Samuel who married his first cousin, Mary, Came over to this Uncle John as an orphan boy and was reared by that Uncle. I believe, with many others that when John's brother, George Parker, died in Worchester County Maryland, John Parker took his nephew, Samuel, born in Worchester County and reared him. When Samuel's uncle John moved to Georgia he joined them there after selling in 1787, the land that was left to him by his father, George Parker, In Worchester County Maryland. He bought property next to his Uncle John in Washington Co Ga., 10 Aug. 1790. He married his cousin, Mary, in Georgia in 1792. (This marriage date is of record only in old family letters and bibles.)

She married (1) Gabriel Laurent BORDELON 20 Feb 1730, in New Orleans, Orleans, LA, USA. He was the son of Jean Baptiste Thomas BORDELON and Magdeleine DE BRACHON. She married (2) Nicolas SARRAZIN 10 Aug 1721. She married (3)

Jean Stephan DIT ROQUANCOURT 22 Feb 1737, in Pointe Coupee, , LA, USA.

Anne Francoise Roland, married (her 3rd) Jean Stephan called Roquancourt, a native of Basse Bretagne, France, at Pointe Coupee on February 1737.

Ann became rebellious in her teenage years possibly due to an overly strick father and jealous stepmother. By 1709, her father had lost all patience with his headstrong daughter and had no idea as to how to deal with her. He sent a petition to De Machault, the Chief of Police in Paris reporting her behavior. She was considered what would now call a "juvenile delinquent" and, as a result, was jailed in the infamous La Salpêtrière Prison in Paris and charged with debaucheries and public prostitution.

Thirza Vallois in a September 1998 issue of the Paris Kiosque writes that La Salpêtrière was originally a gunpowder factory set up in the 1600's to house "the tramps and vagabonds of Paris, it's rascals and rogues, whores and cut throats, charlatans and crooks - 40,000 in all out of a total population of 400,000!" Vallois quotes a royal edict dated 1656 that clearly states that the objective of La Salpêtrière was to "clear the streets of vice whilst providing shelter for this wretched portion of humanity" as well as "put an end to beggary and idleness, as being the source of all disorder".

Conditions at La Salpêtrière apparently deteriorated dramatically after 1680, when following a new royal edict, it became a jail for prostitutes arrested on the authority of a sealed letter from the King. Vallois writes: "Caught in the net on the streets of Paris, they were driven in carts through crowds of jeering Parisians to La Salpêtrière, where they were paired off with hardened convicts and shipped of to the New World to populate it's newly conquered territories".

Duc de la Rochefoucauld reported after a visit to La Salpêtrière: "Everything is in a state of neglect to a degree as inconceivable as it is distressing. All categories of madness are confounded. chained up mad women (and there are many of them) are united with peaceful ones. The latter have to put up permanently with the horrific spectacle of the contortions and fury of their enraged inmates, which they accompany with perpetual screams, and never enjoy a moment of rest... Here there is no gentleness, no consolation, no remedy." Vallois goes on to state that Duc de La Rochefoucauld failed to mention that the building was overrun by voracious rats!

(Note: La Salpêtrière is now the largest hospital in Paris and is the hospital at which Princess Diana died.)

We can only assume that Anne was subject to deplorable conditions during her stay at La Salpêtrière so it is possible that she welcomed the forced deportation to the New World in June of 1719. At that time, she was deemed suitable to be sent to the islands and placed aboard the ship "La Mutine" by order of the King along with approximately 100 other women of "questionable character."

Ironically, the crimes for which Anne was charged would probably be considered very minor by today's standards. According to an article that appeared in the Imperial St. Landry Genealogical & Historical Society publication (Volume IV, #2) entitled "Anne Francoise Rolland", there "never was any concrete evidence in her file to show that the charge of prostitution was valid".

Although unconfirmed, it appears that Anne and Gabriel moved to Natchez shortly after their marriage where Anne gave birth to their son, Nicolas Bordelon.

Generation No. 9

256. Jean Baptiste Thomas BORDELON was born about 1670, in Lehavre, Rouen, Normandie, France, died about 1732, in , , , France. He married (1) Magdeleine DE BRACHON about 1692, in Le Havre, Seine-Maritime, Haute-Normandie, France. He married (2) Madgdeleine DE CHAMPGAUTIERES RICHOUF about 1698, in Le Havre, Seine-Maritime, Haute-Normandie, France. He married (3) Henriette ROCHECHOUART about 1720, in Le Havre, Seine-Maritime, Haute-Normandie, France.

According to the book by Gremillion, the Jean Baptiste Bordelon family was the only Bordelon family at Le Havre for the period of 1578 - 1792. Jean Baptiste was the Supply/Comptroller for the French Navy.

Jean left his wife, Magdeleine De Richouf of Le Havre. She ssued him for separating of the assets of their community in 1719.

Jean Baptiste Thomas Bordelon was "controlleur de vivre's de la marine" at the porte of Le Havre. The term "de vivre's" refers to supply, subsistence, and commissary functions of the Navy. It is evident that Jean Baptiste Bordelon Thomas father of Gabriel Laurent, later married to Magdeleine Richouf de Chapgautiers. Two children of this marriage were baptized at Notre Dame, La Havre, France. The archivist of the city of La Havre who searched the registries of Notre Dame Parish and Saint Francoise Parish, La Havre, stated that this family of Jean Baptiste Thomas Bordelon was the only Bordelon Family at La Havre for the period of 1578 - 1792.

1711 Jean Baptiste Thomas Bordelon was employed at the port of Rochefort, France as "directeur des vivre's do la marine" of that port from letters of the court the 1711 to 1712 in the archives of the Port of Rochefort, it appears that Bordelon had left his wife at Le Havre.

In 1719 Dame Magdeleine de Richouf, wife of Jean Baptiste Thomas Bordelon, successfully sued her husband for separation of the assets of their community.

Jean Baptiste Possible married a third time to Henriette Rochechouart. At the marriage of Gabriel Laurent to Anne Francoise Roland, Gabriel listed his parents as Jean Baptiste and Henriette Rochechouart.

416. Ambroise HAYDEL was born 15 Sep 1702, in Neunkirchen, Mainz, , Germany, christened 15 Sep 1702, in Neunkirchen, Mainz, , Germany, died 1767-1774, in , St John de Baptist, LA, USA. He was the son of John Adam HEIDEL and Eve Barbara SCHWARTZBERG. He married Marguerite SCHOFF. She was the daughter of Jacob SCHOFF and Marianne.

Ambroise Haydel, (originally Heidel) native of Neukirchen, Electorate of Mainz and a baker came to Louisiana on Les Deux Freres leaving Lorent France sometime after 17 Nov 1720 when the ship was commissioned. The ship under command of Pierre Chesneau had, in addition of the 51 crew members, 150 Germans and 77 Swiss passengers. Among these were Ambrose' brother, Johann and his sister Barbe and Catharina

The trip of about 6,000 miles was completed on 4 Mar 1721 when the ship anchored at Dauphin Island. From there, the group was ferried to Nauveau Biloxi. After considerable waiting they continued on to the district set aside for the colonists which was located 40 kilometers upstream from New Orleans. The trip was by row boat across Lake Pontchartrain and Maurepas and every evening before sunset they were required to land bivouac for the night constantly harassed by the Maringouins, (mosquito's).

It is believed that his father and mother were with him when he left Germany but that his father became sick in Lorent, France while awaiting transportation and that his mother stayed with the father until his death. This occurred between Nov 1720 and Apr 1721, after which she proceeded to follow her children on the ship Charente. She probably died enroute to the new land aboard the La Charente which sailed about 22 Apr 1721 and was shipwrecked on the 28 Apr 1721.

In the "Family's of Louisiana" Vol II, a census listing for 1724 indicates Ambrose Hesdel (Heidel) age 22, Native of Neukirchen, Electorate of Mayence, a Roman Catholic and a Baker. His wife, his brother age 18, and cripple brother-in-law age 13 are with him. This is the last mention of this brother. On page 54, of the same book, is a listing of land owners along the Mississippi and includes Ambrose Heydel with 5 arpents bought from Gaullas and 10 arpents by possession. The land was located between Gaspard and Villar. An arpent is approximately an acre and the normal depth was 40 arpents so the amount of land owned by Ambrose in 1724 was approximately 600 acres.

According to the "Settlement of the German Coast of Louisiana" page 25, in 1731 Ambrose and his wife had two children, one engage, three negroes and two cows.

- viii. Jean HAYDEL, born about 1741, in , St John, LA, USA.

417. Marguerite SCHOFF was the daughter of Jacob SCHOFF and Marianne. She married Ambrose HAYDEL. He was the son of John Adam HEIDEL and Eve Barbara SCHWARTZBERG.

On 6 Aug 1774, Nicolas Haydel, acting for his mother, Widow Ambrose Haydel, sold a slave named Joseph (27 months) to Joseph, a free Negro, who believes the child to be his son. Therefore, Joseph grants freedom to the child.

On 31 May 1774, Marguerite and her children, namely Christophe, Mathias, Nicolas and Jean Jacques Haydel, acting for themselves and for four other heirs of Ambrose Haydel who are absent, sell a farm 11 arpents wide by the customary depth to Louis Gerard Pellerin (resident of New Orleans). The farm is bounded by the properties of Nicolas and Jean Jacques Haydel. Price was 700 Piastres.

6 May 1776, Marguerite together with Christophe, Nicolas, Mathias and Jean Jacques, sell a farm 11 arpents wide by the customary depth to Antoin Albert for 650 Piastres.

448. George PARKER was born Abt 1695-1700, in , Accomac, VA, USA, died 9 Mar 1770, in , Worchester, MD, USA. He was the son of George PARKER and Mary. He married Sarah WARRINGTON 1720, in , Worcester, MD, USA.

This George Parker [born ca. 1700] does not descend from John Parker and Tabitha Truitt, as had been previously thought--he is a FIRST COUSIN, ONCE REMOVED to John Parker and Tabitha Truitt. John Parker and Tabitha Truitt did indeed have a son named "George," but John Parker and Tabitha Truitt's "George" is a SECOND COUSIN to this George Parker [born ca. 1700], and an entirely different individual than this George Parker [born ca. 1700].

The material below is from Darrin L. Parker, Esq. of the Eastern Shore Parker research group [written in response to fellow researcher Laurie Fowers], and is quoted by permission [03/01/2005]

It appears that our George Parker ("Sr.", who was a millwright), father of :

Elisha George Jr. millwright who md. 1st Sarah UNK; 2nd Abigail Scroggins, Jacob who md. Mary Smith, John who md. Sarah Gordy, Sarah Parker who md. Robert Price, Mary Parker who md. James Twyford.

... NEVER RECEIVES via bequest lands named Wickenoes/Wisconis Neck, Dunifrisie, Brotherhood, Parker's Adventure NOR TAKES same by patent or indenture. These same lands are known to be those held by John Parker who md. Tabitha Truitt. According to John's will, his son George was to have received Wickenoes/Wisconis Neck and a portion of Parker's Adventure. Again, our George "Sr. millwright" is never shown TO BE IN POSSESSION of these lands.

It appears that George Parker of Accomac Co. VA. [will written: 1708; will proved: 2 JUN 1713; whom I'll refer to as "George Parker 'Elder, millwright'" md. Mary UNK. (later married Mr. _____ Donas);] passed Mattapany to his son George, as follows:

To son George PARKER: "...my halfe of ship Rack Island the aforesaid fore hundred akers of Land, and this Island & still to him and his heirs...." *** Mount Hope - 400 Acres: "near Sammuell POWELLS, & near the head of one of St. Martin's branches, that David HUDSON dos now live...."

Compare the above will of "George Parker 'Elder, millwright'", with the abstract of the land indenture of George "Sr." millwright dated Feb. 18, 1757, which reads:

"...George Parker-of Somerset Co. Millwright & Sarah his wife of the one part & Joshua Rodgers of Worcester Co. Planter of the other part.....Tract or Parcel of Land CALLED MATTAPONY lying in Worcester County on the seaboard side near the head of St. Martin's Sound...standing on a Point on the North Side Of Herrin Creek....near unto Corner tree of a Tract of Land formerly Surveyed for Ambrose White called Happy Entrance..." (emph. added).

The above indenture and abstract appear to firmly establish the fact that St. Martin's branches is the same area as the tract Mattapany... in fact, the St. Martin's branches tract is "called Mattapany."

Our George "Sr." millwright is shown to be possession of St. Martin's branches -- this is evidenced by the 1757 transfer to Joshua Rodgers. Moreover, the abstract of said conveyance indicates that the St. Martin's branches tract was "called Mattapany."

Furthermore, the book: "Land Records of Worcester County Maryland:1666-1810" by Ruth T. Dryden shows that George Parker the "Elder, millwright patented Mattapany on Sep. 18, 1701 which consisted of 390 acres, but later found only to be 300 acres. The other book [cite omitted] referencing this same land patent revealed that Mattapany did lie on the "seaboard side on the north side Herring Creek."

The land deed/indenture, dated 1757 shows that on Feb. 18, 1757, George Parker, ["Sr."] millwright sold real property located "at head of St. Martin's River 300 acres." [Again], the abstract written in the land indenture clearly states that the real property being conveyed by George Parker, ["Sr."] millwright on Feb. 18, 1757 was the "Tract or Parcel of Land called MATTAPONY lying in Worcester County ON THE SEABOARD SIDE NEAR THE HEAD OF ST. MARTIN'S SOUND...STANDING ON A POINT ON THE NORTH SIDE OF HERRIN CREEK...." (emphasis added). Thus, both George "the Elder" millwright's and George "Sr." millwright's property consisted of tract(s) "on the seaboard side near the head of St. Martin's Sound...standing on a Point on the North Side Of Herrin Creek" consisting of "300 acres."

Thus, LANDS KNOWN TO HAVE BEEN IN THE POSSESSION OF GEORGE THE ELDER MILLWRIGHT ARE LATER SHOWN TO BE IN THE POSSESSION OF OUR GEORGE "SR." MILLWRIGHT. When it is remembered that THIS VERY LAND had been bequeathed by "George Parker 'Elder, millwright'" to his son George, it appears that the George who was the son of George "the Elder, millwright" and George Sr. millwright were the SAME individual.

Coupled with Issue #1 (absence of Wickenoes/Wisconis Neck or portion of Parker's Adventure), this is a huge discrepancy to the "Truitt-to-George Sr." line of reasoning.

Reciprocally, it appears that none of the lands possessed by our George "Sr." were ever possessed or referenced by John Parker who md. Tabitha Truitt.

Our George "Sr." millwright is known to have possessed Streights, Millwright's Good Intent, High

Ridge, and Sawmill Supply Situate. None of these lands are referenced in connection with John Parker who md. Tabitha Truitt.

Coupled with Issues #1 (absence of Wickenoës/Wisconis Neck or portion of Parker's Adventure), and #2 (apparent bequest of Mattapany by George the Elder millwright to George Sr. millwright), this is a huge discrepancy to the "Truitt-to-George Sr." line of reasoning.

It appears that a different George is in possession (and bequeaths) the lands known as Wickenoës/Wisconis Neck:

According to your [Laurie Fowers'] research, a George PARKER who md. Elizabeth UNK (Sons: John, Schoolfield, Ely, Samuel), writes a will Dec. 6, 1767 (proved: Sep. 16, 1774) in which the tract Wickenoës/Wisconis Neck is listed, as follows:

"I give and bequeath unto my Son John Parker all that Tract or parcel of land Called Wickenos Except what I conveyed to my Son Schoolfield Parker out of the Said Tract but it is by will and pleasure that my wife Elizabeth Parker Shall Possess and Enjoy one part of the Said Land and Benefits and Privileges of all appurtenances to the Same belonging during her natural life and afterwards to my Said Son John his heirs and assigns for ever."

Thus, the Wickenoës/Wisconis Neck tract, which should have been in the possession of our George Sr. millwright if the "Truitt-to-George Sr." theory were true, is shown to be in the possession of a DIFFERENT George. And your [Laurie Fowers'] research appeared to demonstrate that our George "Sr. millwright" is never shown to be in possession of Wickenoës/Wisconis Neck during any interim timeframe.

This seems truly FATAL the "Truitt-to-George Sr." theory This George Parker [born ca. 1700] does not descend from John Parker and Tabitha Truitt, as had been previously thought--he is a FIRST COUSIN, ONCE REMOVED to John Parker and Tabitha Truitt. John Parker and Tabitha Truitt did indeed have a son named "George," but John Parker and Tabitha Truitt's "George" is a SECOND COUSIN to this George Parker [born ca. C 1700], and an entirely different individual than this George Parker [born ca. 1700].

It my understanding that an Adam Hiedel is listed as being buried in one of the two cemeteries used by the immigrants.

This occurred between Nov 1720 and Apr 1721, after which she proceeded to follow her children on the ship Charente. She probably died in route to the new land aboard the La Charente which sailed about 22 Apr 1721 and was shipwrecked on the 28 Apr 1721.

Aug 1698, in Beauport, , QC, Canada. He was the son of Andre PARENT and Marie GOUDRAY. He married Jeanne BADEAU Feb 1654, in Quebec City, Quebec, QC, Canada. She was the daughter of Jacques BADEAU and Ann ARDOUIN.

Pierre Parent from Mortagne, Perche, France was born in 1610, the son of Adre Parent and Marie Goudray, Pierre is estimated to have arrived in Quebec no later then 1651. This is predicated on the law that required single men to serve three years to before receiving citizenship and that the arrival would have had to have been at least three years before his marriage.

Pierre was married in the home of Lord Gifford at Quebec on 8 Feb 1654 to Jeanne Badeau, daughter of Jacques and Ann Ardouin of Beauport. Pierre and Jeanne had seventeen children, thirteen sons and four daughters.

Pierre was a butcher by trade. Shortly after their marriage, they bought land to raise cattle to support the butcher trade. Subsequently a large quarry was developed on the property and much stone was quarried to supply the builders in Quebec City.

"William Michael was perhaps the first attorney to practice his profession in Northampton County, and in 1657 was one of the recognized leaders of the bar. For many years Colonel Edmund Scarborough seems to have shared honors with Michael. The former's argument in the famous Gettering's Controversy, which arose out of a bequest to the church by Stephen Charlton, is a masterly exposition of the law of wills.[FN1]

Other distinguished lawyers of the seventeenth century were: Thomas Harmonson, Francis Pigott; Daniel Foxcroft, John Tankard, Charles Holden, William Spencer, John Luke, Ambrose White, George Watson, John Stratton, John Parker, James Watts, and Colonel John Custis. Custis ably defended the Rev. Mr. Teackle against certain ungrounded but serious charges brought against him by Scarborough, the latter accusing Teackle of improper relations with Lady Scarborough and combining with her to poison him. Most of the attorneys named were exceptionally well versed in the law and skillful practitioners. The volume of litigation was surprisingly large, and while the practice of law must have been highly lucrative, yet the lawyers invariably indulged in the planting of tobacco."
